

FERRY-BOAT RAMS SLIP

Elmira, of D. L. & W. Line, Crashes Into Bridge, Smashing Port Bow and Ripping Deck.

The big ferryboat Elmira, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, crashed into the bridge of the Barclay street ferry slip to-day, smashing the port bow railings, ripped the pieces of iron and beams from the deck and broke a number of windows along the cabin. Three horses were thrown from their feet by the accident and several persons were scratched by the flying glass from the windows.

There was a strong tide running as the Elmira left the Hoboken end of the ferry and the pilot had a hard time with struggling river craft. Several tugboats and tugs got into his path on the way over.

The Elmira twice had to drift with the tide to avoid a collision and once had to back water hard.

The last time that she stopped to let little craft go by she was near the New York shore. The pilot rang for full headway, and the engineer put on all steam. So fast was the new boat forced into the slip that her machinery got beyond the engineer's control, and she repeated the signals to slow down, but it was too late. The engines were reversed hard.

The boat crashed into the ferry bridge, and there was excitement in both cabins. Most of the passengers were out on the decks, and they were knocked about in all directions.

Those horses that were not knocked off of their feet reared and balked and added to the fear of both men and women. One horse was severely cut about the body.

The Elmira was taken back immediately to Hoboken for repairs.

ROOSEVELT'S VISIT ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

President Will Attend His Sister's Wedding and Speak at Two Banquets.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt will leave early tomorrow morning for New York. The trip will be made on a special train via the Pennsylvania Railroad. Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be the guests of honor at the wedding of the President's niece, Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, a daughter of the President's deceased brother, Elliott Roosevelt, and Mr. Franklin Roosevelt.

After the wedding, which will take place at the residence of the bride's mother, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will go to the residence of the President's sister, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, No. 422 Madison avenue.

In the evening President Roosevelt will attend a banquet at the Hotel Astor, and will give a banquet given by the Sons of the American Revolution. The President will deliver addresses at both banquets.

From the Hotel Astor he will go directly to his train, which will leave New York shortly after midnight for Washington.

FEAST ON FISH IN ST. PATRICK'S HONOR

Celtic Club to Have 1,500 at Banquet at Prospect Hall—Dance to Follow.

The Celtic Club, of Bay Ridge, will banquet to-morrow night in celebration of St. Patrick's Day, but the menu will consist exclusively of fish served in varied and elaborate ways. Mrs. Falconio, Apostolic Delegate at Washington, was appealed to by the club committee for a special dispensation that meat and fish might be eaten at the banquet, but he replied that in order to secure such a dispensation as was obtained by the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick documentary evidence regarding the nature and purpose of the feast must be forwarded to Rome. Time would not permit this, so the committee has decided to have a fine fish dinner.

Alderman Lundy, of Sheephead Bay, has twenty cooks to-day engaged preparing the banquet, which will be catered by the famous chef, Mr. J. J. Lundy.

The banquet will be followed by dancing, taking place in Prospect Hall, Prospect place and Fifth avenue, Brooklyn.

PARKER MAY AGAIN BE ON THE BENCH

Friends Seek to Have Him Nominated and Indorsed by Both Parties.

A movement has been started by lawyers and other friends of Alton B. Parker to have him nominated for the Supreme Court bench this fall by the Democrats and Indorsed by the Republicans.

President Justice Van Brunt retires this year, his term having expired. It is planned to ultimately land Judge Parker in the position of Presiding Justice.

The salary attached to the position is greater than the one he gave up to become the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The idea of the friends of the former Chief Justice is to re-nominate him to the bench where his record was such that it was indorsed by all.

GRAND JURY HEARS MURDER SUSPECT.

Unprecedented Act by Inquisitorial Body Results in Promptly Settling Him Free.

An occurrence unprecedented in the history of the Grand Jury of this county, according to old court attendants and attorneys, was the summoning of David Kramer, accused of murder in the first degree, from the Tombs to the Grand Jury room to give testimony to-day. So well did Kramer explain his crime that the Grand Jury refused to indict and he was discharged.

Kramer shot and killed his brother-in-law, Abraham Meyer, in a saloon they conducted at No. 114 Lexington avenue, on Dec. 22. The killing grew out of a quarrel about money.

Eighteen witnesses were examined before Kramer was called to testify in his own defense. Kramer's wife, sister of the man he killed, was also a witness, and while she was allowed to protect the memory of her husband.

The Grand Jury found that Kramer killed Meyer in self-defense.

AGED COPPER MAGNATE DEAD

Millionaire Meyer Guggenheim, Who Went to Palm Beach, Fla., for a Rest, a Victim of Pleurisy.

Meyer Guggenheim, the aged financier and copper magnate, died at Palm Beach, Fla., early this morning. Mr. Guggenheim went South only four weeks ago in perfect health for a month's rest. He was attacked with pleurisy last Sunday. In spite of the efforts of several physicians pneumonia developed and Mr. Guggenheim sank rapidly, until the end came at 3:30 o'clock to-day.

As head of the firm of M. Guggenheim & Sons, Mr. Guggenheim was one of the best known copper men in the world. He was seventy-eight years old, but still took an active interest in business. Born a poor boy at Langnau, Switzerland, on Feb. 1, 1828, he learned a trade in his boyhood days and as a journeyman traveled through Europe.

He came to this country in 1848. On the way over he met Miss Barbara Meyer, whom he afterward married. His father and Mr. Meyer's mother met at the same time, and they, too, were married.

Mr. Guggenheim became a vendor upon his arrival in this country, but he soon tired of that modest enterprise and repeated the signals to slow down, but it was too late. The engines were reversed hard.

The boat crashed into the ferry bridge, and there was excitement in both cabins. Most of the passengers were out on the decks, and they were knocked about in all directions.

Those horses that were not knocked off of their feet reared and balked and added to the fear of both men and women. One horse was severely cut about the body.

The Elmira was taken back immediately to Hoboken for repairs.

ROOSEVELT'S VISIT ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

President Will Attend His Sister's Wedding and Speak at Two Banquets.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt will leave early tomorrow morning for New York. The trip will be made on a special train via the Pennsylvania Railroad. Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be the guests of honor at the wedding of the President's niece, Miss Eleanor Roosevelt, a daughter of the President's deceased brother, Elliott Roosevelt, and Mr. Franklin Roosevelt.

After the wedding, which will take place at the residence of the bride's mother, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will go to the residence of the President's sister, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, No. 422 Madison avenue.

In the evening President Roosevelt will attend a banquet at the Hotel Astor, and will give a banquet given by the Sons of the American Revolution. The President will deliver addresses at both banquets.

From the Hotel Astor he will go directly to his train, which will leave New York shortly after midnight for Washington.

FEAST ON FISH IN ST. PATRICK'S HONOR

Celtic Club to Have 1,500 at Banquet at Prospect Hall—Dance to Follow.

The Celtic Club, of Bay Ridge, will banquet to-morrow night in celebration of St. Patrick's Day, but the menu will consist exclusively of fish served in varied and elaborate ways. Mrs. Falconio, Apostolic Delegate at Washington, was appealed to by the club committee for a special dispensation that meat and fish might be eaten at the banquet, but he replied that in order to secure such a dispensation as was obtained by the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick documentary evidence regarding the nature and purpose of the feast must be forwarded to Rome. Time would not permit this, so the committee has decided to have a fine fish dinner.

Alderman Lundy, of Sheephead Bay, has twenty cooks to-day engaged preparing the banquet, which will be catered by the famous chef, Mr. J. J. Lundy.

The banquet will be followed by dancing, taking place in Prospect Hall, Prospect place and Fifth avenue, Brooklyn.

PARKER MAY AGAIN BE ON THE BENCH

Friends Seek to Have Him Nominated and Indorsed by Both Parties.

A movement has been started by lawyers and other friends of Alton B. Parker to have him nominated for the Supreme Court bench this fall by the Democrats and Indorsed by the Republicans.

President Justice Van Brunt retires this year, his term having expired. It is planned to ultimately land Judge Parker in the position of Presiding Justice.

The salary attached to the position is greater than the one he gave up to become the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The idea of the friends of the former Chief Justice is to re-nominate him to the bench where his record was such that it was indorsed by all.

GRAND JURY HEARS MURDER SUSPECT.

Unprecedented Act by Inquisitorial Body Results in Promptly Settling Him Free.

An occurrence unprecedented in the history of the Grand Jury of this county, according to old court attendants and attorneys, was the summoning of David Kramer, accused of murder in the first degree, from the Tombs to the Grand Jury room to give testimony to-day. So well did Kramer explain his crime that the Grand Jury refused to indict and he was discharged.

Kramer shot and killed his brother-in-law, Abraham Meyer, in a saloon they conducted at No. 114 Lexington avenue, on Dec. 22. The killing grew out of a quarrel about money.

Eighteen witnesses were examined before Kramer was called to testify in his own defense. Kramer's wife, sister of the man he killed, was also a witness, and while she was allowed to protect the memory of her husband.

The Grand Jury found that Kramer killed Meyer in self-defense.

SHOT DOG THAT HELD HIS LEG

J. D. Shea, of Morrisania Station, Under Treatment in Pasteur Institute for Severe Wound Made by Mad Brute.

Policeman John D. Shea, of the Morrisania station, is in the Pasteur Institute to-day, having been attacked by a savage dog, which is believed to have been mad and which bit him in the leg.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

The dog was foaming at the mouth and showed every symptom of hydrophobia. Shea was advised to go to the Institute for treatment without delay. The owner of the dog alleges that the animal had never shown any viciousness or signs of madness before.

Shea was bound for Lebanon Hospital, where he had been assigned to watch a prisoner, when a dog belonging to Peter Rito, of No. 630 Eagle avenue, Bronx, which was being led by a small boy, pulled away from the boy and made for the policeman. Before Shea could protect himself the dog had buried his teeth deep into the muscular part of his leg. Shea could not shake the dog off, and pulling his revolver he sent two bullets through the beast's body, killing it, with its teeth still fast in the flesh of his leg.

SAVED FROM SUICIDE IN FLAT BY JANITOR.

Mrs. Joachim, an invalid, Turned on the Gas After Her Husband Had Gone to Work.

Mrs. Helen Joachim, sufferer from intertrigo, attempted to commit suicide by inhaling gas in her flat on the third floor of the apartment-house No. 63 East One Hundred and Fifth street to-day. The attempt was made immediately after her husband had left for business downtown.

John Northaus, the janitor, detected the odor of escaping gas and broke in the door of the Joachim flat in time to save the woman's life. She was sent to Harlem Hospital.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium, (Incorporated under the laws of New York)

FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or write for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, 1124 Ave. 110 West 22d St., between 6th and 7th Aves., next to Zurich store, New York. Phone 6-1124. Hours daily 11 to 2. KOCH'S CURE Cures the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles. Costs $2 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium or sent by home.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or write for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, 1124 Ave. 110 West 22d St., between 6th and 7th Aves., next to Zurich store, New York. Phone 6-1124. Hours daily 11 to 2. KOCH'S CURE Cures the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles. Costs $2 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium or sent by home.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or write for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, 1124 Ave. 110 West 22d St., between 6th and 7th Aves., next to Zurich store, New York. Phone 6-1124. Hours daily 11 to 2. KOCH'S CURE Cures the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles. Costs $2 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium or sent by home.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or write for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, 1124 Ave. 110 West 22d St., between 6th and 7th Aves., next to Zurich store, New York. Phone 6-1124. Hours daily 11 to 2. KOCH'S CURE Cures the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles. Costs $2 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium or sent by home.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or write for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, 1124 Ave. 110 West 22d St., between 6th and 7th Aves., next to Zurich store, New York. Phone 6-1124. Hours daily 11 to 2. KOCH'S CURE Cures the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles. Costs $2 a week, $10 a month or $25